Dear Commissioner Copps,

Emergency response communications have never been more critical, or more difficult.

That's because of a common problem on police, fire and EMS radios: interference. Interference, garbled or dropped communications, inhibits first responders from doing their jobs safely and effectively. Essentially, if first responders can't communicate, they can't help and may themselves be in danger.

There is a solution before the FCC: the Consensus Plan. Over 300 public safety organizations, local governments, and congressional officials support this Plan because it eliminates interference before it occurs and at no additional cost to federal, state or local budgets - or the American taxpayer.

The 300 Consensus Plan supporters that have filed with the FCC, along with John Walsh, host of America's Most Wanted, recognize the importance of communications for America's police, fire and EMS workers. This problem has existed long enough, and our first responders deserve better. I am asking you to help.

Please listen to the voices of public safety. Our neighborhoods, families and fellow public safety professionals cannot afford to wait any longer.

Dear Commissioner Abernathy,

I strongly back up the Consensus Plan 100%. I am a Security Officer here in California and have had trouble with my radio. I was very scared and didnt know what to do. Our men and women Police Officers, Firefighters and Emergency Response Personnel need all the airwaves as possible. I have watched the news and have been outraged with the fact that our Police Officers have been shot at, and it is happening more and more. It is very crucial for them being able to contact their dispatchers. The United States is highly targeted by terrorists and the people we civilians need and depend on is our Police Officers, Firefighters and Emergency Response Personnel. I would be devastated if one of my loved ones was severely injured and could have been saved in time but only to the fact they passed on because on of our Police Officers couldnt call for Emergengy Response. After watching Americas Most Wanted and hearing of this, I disconnected my cell phone and wont get another one. I am in the process of getting into the Police Academy and believe me, I want to do my job to the best that I can. Our Officers took their vow, "To Protect and Serve," Lets be sure and take every effort to ensure the safety of their lives and ours Who knows the next life they save, could be yours!!

Dear Chairman Powell,

The need for police personnel to be able to communicate in times of crisis has never been greater.

As a police officer devoted to fighting crime and ensuring the safety of our communities, I urge you to support the Consensus Plan before the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to prevent CMRS interference to public safety communications systems.

The FCC has made a commitment to all first responders to address this critical issue, and as time passes, our risk from this problem continues to grow.

The Consensus Plan is the only proposal before the FCC that addresses this problem head-on, and is the only proposal that has the support of America's leading public safety organizations, including:

- The International Association of Chiefs of Police
- Major City and County Sheriff's Associations
- The International Association of Fire Chiefs
- Association of Public Safety Communications Officials

Together with the private sector members of the Consensus Plan, more than 90 percent of affected licensees in the 800MHz band have agreed that this is the best way to resolve this problem for public safety - TODAY. And the Plan requires no public money.

We cannot afford to wait any longer. My fellow officers and I hope that we can count on your support.

Sincerely,

Joe Leiter

- The International Association of Fire Chiefs
- Association of Public Safety Communications Officials

Together with the private sector members of the Consensus Plan, more than 90 percent of affected licensees in the 800MHz band have agreed that this is the best way to resolve this problem for public safety - TODAY. And the Plan requires no public money.

We cannot afford to wait any longer. My fellow officers and I hope that we can count on your support.

Sincerely,

Dear Commissioner Copps,

The need for police personnel to be able to communicate in times of crisis has never been greater.

As a police officer devoted to fighting crime and ensuring the safety of our communities, I urge you to support the Consensus Plan before the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to prevent CMRS interference to public safety communications systems.

The FCC has made a commitment to all first responders to address this critical issue, and as time passes, our risk from this problem continues to grow.

The Consensus Plan is the only proposal before the FCC that addresses this problem head-on, and is the only proposal that has the support of America's leading public safety organizations, including:

- The International Association of Chiefs of Police
- Major City and County Sheriff's Associations
- The International Association of Fire Chiefs
- Association of Public Safety Communications Officials

Together with the private sector members of the Consensus Plan, more than 90 percent of affected licensees in the 800MHz band have agreed that this is the best way to resolve this problem for public safety - TODAY. And the Plan requires no public money.

We cannot afford to wait any longer. My fellow officers and I hope that we can count on your support.

Dear Chairman Powell,

Emergency response communications have never been more critical, or more difficult.

That's because of a common problem on police, fire and EMS radios: interference. Interference, garbled or dropped communications, inhibits first responders from doing their jobs safely and effectively. Essentially, if first responders can't communicate, they can't help and may themselves be in danger.

There is a solution before the FCC: the Consensus Plan. Over 300 public safety organizations, local governments, and congressional officials support this Plan because it eliminates interference before it occurs and at no additional cost to federal, state or local budgets - or the American taxpayer.

The 300 Consensus Plan supporters that have filed with the FCC, along with John Walsh, host of America's Most Wanted, recognize the importance of communications for America's police, fire and EMS workers. This problem has existed long enough, and our first responders deserve better. I am asking you to help.

Please listen to the voices of public safety. Our neighborhoods, families and fellow public safety professionals cannot afford to wait any longer.

Sincerely,
